Parents Warned About Scarlet Fever Incidence

With the help of parents, the number of reported scarlet fever cases at Orinda's Del Rey School is not expected to increase markedly, and there will be no need to close the school, The Sun was told yesterday.

Orinda School District Superintendent Joseph Sheaff said that nine kindergarten pupils from one classroom in the Del Rey School are at home with scarlet fever, and that nearly 20 other Del Rey pupils were absent each day this week due to other illnesses.

He added that Dr. John Baier of the County Health Department took throat cultures Thursday morning of the remaining students in that classroom, taught by Mrs. Underhill and Mrs. Sawyer.

HE SAID THAT Baier had told him that there is no reason at this time to consider closing the school, and the results of the throat cultures will be known today or tomorrow.

The cultures indicate how many children have "strep throats." In the normal classroom, there are always some children with them, but in a classroom where special measures are necessary, the percentage is much higher than normal.

The problem developed when children complained of sore throats and fever, but their parents mistook the symptoms for the common cold and returned their offspring after only several days or a week at home.

Sheaff said that he hopes the parents will cooperate with the district by taking their children who have symptoms to their physicians, and determining if something more serious than a cold is involved.

A CENTRAL county physician told The Sun that the incidence of scarlet fever is increasing in the area, that it is contagious, and in some cases can lead to rheumatic fever or nephritis, an inflammation of the kidneys.

The incubation period is 12 to 24 hours. In addition to fever, a running nose and sore throat, scarlet fever victims will usually develop rashes in the folds of the body skin, and in some cases glands will become swollen, ears infected and eyes will drain.

Members of families with scarlet fever sufferers should consult their physicians about possible preventative remedies

Grand Jury Plans 'Special Meeting' For Gerould Gill

The Contra Costa County Grand Jury's powerful Law Enforcement Committee will speak with Gerould L. Gill, fire chief and commissioner of the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District prior to February 17, according to Edward Valentino, grand jury foreman.

The entire grand jury will hold a special meeting in Martinez February 17 to discuss the Gill affair and "other pressing matters of business," Valentino revealed yesterday.

V. CRAIG BULL, chairman of the law enforcement committee, was instructed by the jury to have his committee meeting with Gill prior to the February 17 meeting. No date has been set as yet by Bull for the meeting.

THE SUN disclosed recently that the emergency fire number of the district and Gill's Marsh Creek Lodge are the same.

Classified advertising listings of the lodge appearing in the telephone directory are being paid by the East Contra Costa Fire Protection District and have been paid over the past five years, according to Howard McNamer, County Auditor.

Gill informed The Sun that he has ordered the telephone company to stop his classified listing in the directory.

District directors are Howard Wiedemann of San Ramon, Harry Rohrer, Moraga; Lee Higgins and Frank Arrata, Antioch.

THE EAST Contra Costa Fire Protection District includes all of the Moraga, Canyon and San Ramon areas and borders the Mt. Diablo, Lafayette, Orinda and Central Fire Protection Districts.

It is the largest fire district in the county and extends to Antioch, Brentwood and Byron.

Reporter Tries To Crack Case; Scares Widow

A Berkeley reporter, attempting to personally crack the Anderson murder case, startled Mrs. Mayme Anderson Tuesday night when he rang the doorbell of her home on 1 Las Aromas.

The widow of slain executive William R. Anderson said that a man dressed in black appeared at the door of her home around 7 p.m.

She said that when she opened the peep hole, keeping the door closed, the "man with black, bushy hair, wearing a dark suit and shirt," asked her if she were Mrs. Anderson.

She said that she was terrified and stood at the door only a few minutes before closing the peephole and calling the sheriff's deputies.

The Berkeley's reporter, whose description does not match the one given by Mrs. Anderson, said that he was trying to solve the mystery of the murder of Anderson, the San Francisco collection agency owner who was shot to death November 25 after responding to the front door bell.

Mrs. Anderson said that she was so upset after the appearance of the night caller that she spent the remainder of the night with neighbors.

Far Reaching County Changes Asked by Jury

Far reaching changes in county government were recommended Wednesday by the Contra Costa County Grand Jury.

A County Government Committee report was submitted by Edward W. Mertens, chairman, to Edward Valentino, grand jury, at the regular session of the grand jury in Martinez.

THE GRAND JURY recommendations included the following:

1. An executive form of government is needed in the county. All administrative responsibilities along with the appropriate authority should be transferred from the Board of Supervisors to the executive head, who would be appointed by the Board of Supervisors.

2. With the exception of the district attorney, all department heads, marshals and constables should be made appointive offices.

3. These changes should be accomplished by modifying the general law of California. This will require action by the State Legislature.

4. The Assemblymen from the 10th and 11th Assembly Districts and the State Senator from the 17th Senatorial District should promote and support favorable legislation by which the above recommendations may be realized.

5. The Board of Supervisors both directly and through the County Supervisors Association of California and the elective department heads through their respective statewide organizations should recommend such legislation to the State Legislature.

6. The Board of Supervisors should divest administrative detail from themselves wherever possible, even under the current structure of our county government. They should retain policy-making, legislative and deliberative responsibilities.

7. Attendance by all department heads at the weekly staff meeting held by the Board of Supervisors is strongly recommended.

8. The State Legislature should enact changes in the general law by which it would be permissive for the Board of Supervisors to invoke minimum qualifications for candidates seeking election to the offices of sheriff, county clerk-recorder ,assessor, coroner-public administrator, treasurer-tax collector, marshal and constable. Our local Assemblymen and State Senator are urged to support this proposal.

9. The office of County Superintendent of Schools should be made appointive. This would also require action by the State Legislature. The function of this office is to carry out the policies of the county Board of Education and to administrate the state laws pertaining to education. As administrative officer to the Board of Education, he should be formally responsible to the Board of Education and therefore, this position should be appointive.

Manure, Phones, Ads-- And, Well, We Need Help!

It's amazing what a batch of well-rotted manure will do.

Like encourage headaches, for instance.

Well, you see, it's this way.

There's a lady, someplace, with a whole back yard full of well-rotted manure.

She wants to sell it.

For $5 per load.

THERE'S another lady someplace, who keeps getting phone calls asking when people can drop by to pick up their loads of well-rotted manure.

At $5 per load.

Only trouble is, this second lady hasn't got any well-rotted manure.

But she has got a busy telephone!

You see, the first lady—the one with the well-rotted manure—called The Sun to place a classified ad.

She wanted to sell her well-rotted manure.

The pleasant, friendly Sun staff took the ad, voices bristling with personality.

SUBSEQUENTLY, the ad appeared in The Sun Shopping News and the Walnut Creek Sun, Lafayette Sun, Orinda Sun and Pleasant Hill Sun.

Only trouble is, the phone number was wrong.

That's when the second lady (the one without any well-rotted manure, but with a busy telephone) called to ask what was the pitch?

So the pleasant, friendly Sun staff has a plea to make.

Will the lady with the well-rotted manure please call us and let us know what is the correct phone number, yet?

Will she do so right away—before the other lady, with the busy telephone, goes out of her mind?

It figures. You can sell ANYTHING with Sun classified ads.

All you need is a telephone—and the right phone number!

Exclusion of County From Transit District Sought

Assemblyman Jerome Waldie has introduced state legislation which sets up machinery whereby a city council or a county board of supervisors could petition the Alameda-Contra Costa transit district for exclusion of territory from the district.

The bill also provides that 10 per cent of the voters of the area could sign a similar petition.

IN THE EVENT the district board fails to act on the petition, the question would go to the vote of the electorate in the area involved, according to a provision in Waldie's bill.

In seeking a method to make it easier for areas to withdraw from the transit district, Waldie said that he had been informed that Concord, Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill, and possibly Lafayette and Orinda want to withdraw from the district.

Contra Costa County Taxpayers Association spokesmen said this week that State Senator George Miller Jr. and Assemblymen Jerome Waldie and S. C. Masterson have offered to submit bills to the state legislature providing for school trustee elections every two years instead of annually.

THE BILLS WOULD also require all special districts to file annual budgets.

An annual savings of $50,000 in the county is anticipated if the trustee elections are put on a biennial basis.

The state would save an overall million dollars, Harry Morrison Jr., association executive director said.

Contra Costa County has 121 special districts, including fire, reclamation, storm drainage, park and recreation. All of them are automonomous.

The proposed bill would require each district to submit its budget to the county auditor.

Orinda School Population Hits Record High: 3050

And four precincts will be used in the District's May 19 Trustee election instead of the two used in the last election.

Precincts will be added at Sleepy Hollow and Del Rey schools to augment the Orinda and Glorietta school precincts. Election officials were selected at Monday night's meeting.

District Curriculum Director Glenn McNicholas reported on the five year curriculum program in the district, stressing the aims of the district study program. He read a letter from the National Science Foundation and presented members of the board with booklets outlining the science program here.

Superintendent Joseph Sheaff reported to board members, who were all present at the meeting that Dr. Schneider of O'Dell Associates will assist the district in making a study for a new school site.

A letter was received by the board from Deputy District Attorney Charles Hemming with a check for $1806 as reimbursement for pine trees destroyed on school district property. The check was from the Surplus Line Adjusting Company to the school district.

The resignation of Mrs. Margaret Benston as District Health Consultant was accepted by the board. Miss Janet Janesse was elected as her replacement. Election of Mrs. Joy Benjamini to first grade teaching duties was also voted by the board members.

Attendance at March Educational Conferences was authorized by the board for Frank Isola and two members of his staff to attend the CAHPER conference in Los Angeles; Richard King, Industrial Arts teacher to the California Industrial Arts Association conference in Stockton and for Ted Boyce and William Gaskell, school principals to the CESAA conference in San Diego.

Students Work at Teenage Code

A group of Miramonte students is at work writing a "Code of Teen Age Behavior" with Mike Wilmar, student body president, as chairman. This group was chosen from those attending joint meetings of student, faculty, and parent representatives, regarding the need and desirability of an acceptable set of guiding principles for the young people of Orinda.

The last joint meeting was held on January 7 at the Miramonte Library, and as before, Bela Clark of the Juvenile Control Bureau, acted as moderator.

The topics of primary discussion at the meeting were the privileges and responsibilities of driving, and drinking among young people.

Topics discussed at an earlier meeting included Dating, Parties, Hours, Community and School Behavior.

The committee of parents appointed from the Parents' Club of Miramonte High school were impressed with the frankness and levity of students participating, and anticipate the February meeting of student, faculty, and parent representatives, at which time the student committee will present its "code".

Log-Rolling May Have Wide Effect On This Area

By POLITICUS

A battle among legislators seems to be in the offing over exclusion of Central Contra Costa from the Alameda Contra Costa Transit District.

Informed sources in Sacramento state that the Alameda County Delegation has been asked to introduce legislation which would exclude Central Contra Costa from voting on any future bond issue proposed by the transit district.

CONTRA COSTA legislators have been asked to introduce legislation which would exclude Central Contra Costa not only from future bond elections, but also from the district itself.

Fluoridation may have a great deal to do with the fate of the proposed transit district legislation.

Rumored in opposition to the fluoridation legislation which would permit the East Bay Municipal Utility District to fluoriate its water are Assemblymen Rumford and Dahl, both Alameda County Republicans.

JEROME WALDIE, 10th district democratic central county assemblyman, is on record in favor of fluoridation.

Presumably Waldie has the support of S. C. Masterson (D), Richmond, assemblyman, and George Miller Jr., Martinez (D), senator of the 17th district.

All three Contra Costa legislators have gone on record in favor of the total exclusion of the central county area from the district, but if the Alameda county legislators wish to garner their support for the anti-fluoridation measure they will have to win the support of the Contra Costa delegation.

The easiest method, observers say, is for the Alameda County delegation to go along with the exclusion and then "log roll" for the anti-fluoridation votes from the Contra Costa contingent in both the assembly and on the senate floor.

Webster defines log rolling as the combining to assist another in consideration of assistance in return, esp., among politicians for political ends.

IN ANY CASE, the exclusion matter will come before the Public Utilities and Corporations Committee of the Assembly March 4 in Sacramento.

Recent visitors to Sacramento on the exclusion legislation have been Robert Nesbit, attorney-secretary of the transit district; John Worthington, manager of the district and Robert K. Barber, president of the district's board of directors.

Harry Morrison, secretary treasurer of the Contra Costa Transit Council has also been visiting with legislators on the matter.

Skeleton Is Now Identified

A concluding autopsy report today found that the skeleton discovered in Wildcat Canyon last January 7 fits the description of Mrs. Myrtle Thompson, former Oakland woman reported missing two years ago.

No evidence was found to indicate injury as a cause of death, according to the autopsy report.

Dr. William Thompson, county pathologist, stated in his report that the skeleton was that of a woman about 30 and about 5 feet 3. She had been dead two or more years.

Mrs. Thompson had been reported missing to police by her mother Mrs. Bertha Robinson of Oakland.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

A Jug Of Wine, A Loaf Of Bread & Thou!

EL NIDO Rancho was the party-pad setting Sat. nite for members of the Orinda Woman's Club & their husbands who really let their hair down. We mean, Man, Way Down!

In the costume case of Louise Rich, for instance, who attended the Arty Party as a beatnik version of Vampira (what OTHER version could there be!) the black yarn hairdo she wore hung to the waistline & her jet black eyelashes jutted out 2 inches in length. Curled, of course!

IN BLACK TOREADOR ensemble, she copped the costume prize for the Cleverest & she must have looked hilarious! for there certainly was plenty of cool competition from the other cats.

STRAIGHT OFF THE COUCH were the decorations, dreamed up by Jan Soubielle & Muriel Hill in the main, & the humorously-garbed guys & gals called the arty embellishments some of the Best Ever in the Decor Dept. "Straight Off the Couch" was a kaleidoscopic mural created by Jan & featured YOUR friends & mine, the people in those crazy cartoon gift cards we all guffaw over & give to each other. An abstract of a real yellow banana peel footprints on a black block background was neatly named "Skid Row".

THERE was the painting too, titled "Beat, Man, Beat!" done in pinks oranges by Mary Bishop—a portrait of a reclining figure & superimposed over it, a giant Geritol label.

Baubles, Bagels & Beards . . .

Causing chuckles was a humorous water color by Orinda artist Rhys Miller, a sketch of the Co-Existence Bagel Shop in SF & titled "A Jug Of Wine, A Loaf Of Bread & Thou" . . . not to mention Eleanor Funk's donation, "The Old Spaghetti Factory" a mural made of the REAL stuff. She used her arty noodle further to assemble bits of broken glass into mosaics, one of which was labeled "Beatniks Never Die, They Just Jade Away."

Some of our Upper Upper Bohemians going LowBrow were the E. S. Nielsens who came as a Motorcycle couple, "Gear Grinders" painted white on their black jackets. . . . Don & Pat Woodcock won for the "Most Beat" from judge Jean Vicars, their garb all black, beat-up w/black mesh hose for her, a black long beard for him!

PARTY CHRMN. Jan Soubielle's tall husband Henry (Lank Hank?) was hailed Cleverest costumed man & made a distinguished (?) artist in a rig of a leopard smock, jeweled beret, wearing yellow sox w/holes in the toes & leather sandals. Peeking through the worn-out socks, a flaming pedicure & to this touch, Touche for the toes, he handled a black moustache & a long cigarette holder w/his usual French aplomb. Real Raunchy!

THE ART GALLERY further featured clever mobiles of Lox & Bagels & pretzels & bore little signs—"Please don't eat the decorations," these too, the work of Louise Rich. She, by the way, joined her husband Mike pre-party to share potluck & potables at the home of the Richard Funks along w/the Soubielles & Bill & Grace Von Voorhies, the latter lady leading as the Funniest prize-winning female in a wild black wig w/daisies tucked therein & a sloppy grey sweatshirt pulled down to there over a black party skirt.

I Am A Camera

ON THE DANCE FLOOR, the Dick Bottjers, Jean in black, red tam & kerchief. . . . The Jim Stockholms joining in the fun, the Clifford Benjamins dressed degagee in ski sweaters. . . . The Clint Scariches joining in the giggles at the gallery's Pin-Up Corner which featured such well-knows as Budget Bardot, Rita Haywire, Sofa Lorn.

Laurie & Ed Patterson (she was a leotarded danseuse) delighting guests w/the pictures they took w/their Polaroid Camera. . . . Kudos to Jean Barkley, her drawing of "The Pad" one of the many clever artworks that were begged, borrowed or stolen when the evening was o'er.

Jean & her husband Jack among those entertaining pre-party & serving early viands to the Freeman Bishops, Stephen & Oma Stewart, Jane & Clifford Campbell.

IN MOTH-EATEN Tails, Bob Sweeney swept on the scene w/"Man, I thought this one was formal!" Well, that it wasn't, but all agreed it was Different, all in good fun & finished up the evening w/Ham & Eggs served at Midnight.

Footnote: When the party-theme was first suggested, some of the members questioned the Beatnik business—some didn't even KNOW what a Beatnik was. But the Bohemian influence won out & nobody was sorry! Bringing to mind, if you don't mind, one of our favorite quotes—"Life is short, the Art Long, Occasion Instant, Decision Difficult, Experiment Perilous" . . . Hippocrates.

Man, Of The Year, he was The MOST!

THE MAN OF THE YEAR Dinner honoring Perc Brown was well-attended at the Orinda Willows Jan. 28. At the head table, the Herm Silvermans next to Cita & Mel Nielsen, Eleanor Silverman tucking 2 white gardenias in her dark short tresses & bright as a berry in a red frock.

Tamara Brown, her brown cocktail suit satin lapeled & cuffed, sat next to her husband. A lavender orchid presented to her pre-dinner. Louis Breuner & his lovely wife, the Eric Nielsens, (He MC'ed) more of those Up Front.

IN THE THRONG of Seventy . . . Thhe Ernest Spiegls chatting w/Harry Flederman, Madeline & Cliff Benjamin. . . . The Clay Sorricks seated w/the Roger Starks, George Hauerkens. Fred Mulvaneys. Harry Booth, George Krusi, the John McFarlands, Jim Moriarity, Les Hink, Jr. more in the well-wishing crowd as were the Jim Danas, Art Flints, Ernest Polls, Clarence Overaas, Ken Courtrights.

Many of the guests when standing to introduce themselves gave their name & then got in a plug for the new Miramonte Pool to a round of Hurrahs & Applause!

Ane more than one of us took Owen Owens in his flame red monogrammed coat, for the New Headwaiter. He didn't mind. It seems that having worn the red coat to the Crosby Clambake he met MORE people that way—running errands for those who mistook him for a sartorially-turned-out waiter.

COMING up on the calendar, the second "Daze of Gold," the Big DO of the bay area Junior Leaguers. . . . Tunnel Road Entranceway Plans Made

Landscaping plans for preservation of the picturesque charm and rural atmosphere of Orinda along the tunnel road entranceway to the community came a step closer to reality Sunday night.

Members of the Orinda Beautification committee approved planting of a number of large evergreen trees along both sides of the entrance way to shield a view of nearby parking lots.

TREES WILL be planted along Camino Pablo in front of Lucky Store parking area and along the perimeter of the Orinda theatre parking lot on a Pacific Gas and Electric right-of-way.

The project is part of a three-stage beautification program which got underway in December. Redwood tubs with Japanese privet were placed along the business section sidewalks. Landscaping of the Village By-Pass was completed. A local scout unit maintenance program is under way.

THE PG&E recently agreed to prune and maintain the evergreen trees if they exceed a growth of 25 feet. In a contract agreement with the chamber of commerce, it was stipulated the PG&E be reimbursed for the work.

Committee members also agreed to contact the California Division of Highways to obtain permission for planting of three trees near the stop sign at the Crossroads intersection. The trees would be set back far enough on state property to permit motorists an adequate view of traffic.

Local organizations which have agreed to donate trees to "Help Make Orinda's Back Door Its Front Door" are:

Oak Springs Home Association; Lost Valley Community association; Glorietta Improvement association; AAUW; Newcomers Club; Orinda Art Center; Orinda Valley Garden club and the Orinda Garden club.

SELECTION of the California Olive evergreen (olea europaea) came after months of study. Dollar eucaluptus, black acacia, elm trees, camphor trees were ruled out. Other tree selections were also discarded by the committee because of height, environmental resistance and traffic hazard factors. California oak trees were unobtainable.

THE GROUP held its meeting at the home of Stanley Allen.

Present were Mesdames Fred Rust, Ralph Hickcox, Robert Patmont, Basil Winslow, Paul Pollaczek; Messrs. Allen, Robert M. Babcock, Robert Waschmirth, Dr. Ralph Hall, John Miller, and William Penn Mott.

Orinda Parents Hear Panel On Child Behavior

Last week a capacity audience of Orinda parents attended the opening meeting of a series being presented by the Parent Education Committee and sponsored by the Health Council and the Cooperating Council of the Orinda Parents' Clubs. These meetings are on compliance with many requests concerning privileges, restrictions, and guidance for elementary school children.

At this meeting a panel discussion on "Community Standards and Social Pressures" was moderated by Mrs. Madeline Duckles of KPFA Broadcasting Station and featured the following speakers: Dr. Alvin Goren, psychiatrist from Walnut Creek; Dr. George Prlain, Orinda physician;

Dr. Lloyd Scott, educator from the University of California; and Dr. Herbert Wilson, sociologist from San Francisco State College.

Discussion was opened by Dr. Prlain who pointed out that love in the family and acceptance of the child for what he is, and the ability to guide the child is all important.

Dr. Goren indicated that parents have come to feel a great deal of guilt concerning how to handle a teen-ager. Much of this is unnecessary guilt. Children are given more and more rights earlier and yet the early rights are not accompanied by early responsibilities. In Europe, by contrast, more is expected of the young people.

Failure to reach a teen-ager is not always a fault of the parent. The teen-ager often looks for help outside the family and feels awkward with the family concerning his personal problems. A great deal of estrangement comes from this direction.

Sometimes parents find it difficult or impossible to discuss and explain matters concerning sex to their children, but it is all important that we avail ourselves of the knowledge and ability necessary to help them on these matters. A child should be informed at a pre-adolescent age whether or not he gets around to "asking."

Regarding the maturation of a child, the earlier a child tends to develop physically, the easier time he frequently has adjusting as an adult. Early physical development is only one of many factors and is not necessarily indicative of early maturity. Individuals who have too easy a life tend to have difficulty in maturing. Maturation may occur late in the twenties or even the thirties or forties if problems are not great enough when a person is growing up.

The group influence in the school situation was discussed by Dr. Scott. He pointed out that the school is the arena for establishing an identity. A child is thinking at all times: "I must be like the others. I don't want to be too different. I want to see where I really belong. I want to be an individual and yet not get so far out of line that the finger is pointed at me."

Parents do not see the behavior of their children in this kind of group. Reports are received from the teacher, and, at times they are startling. The child is trying to get relationships solid and has to be on his own.

The parent is left with the task of setting the appropriate standards at home. The child can very well be the vehicle through which these standards are promoted. If a child asks to join in some activity in which the majority are participating, for instance, social dancing, and the family says "no," Dr. Scott points out it is possible to break the child's personality.

He suggests having trust in teachers or others in authority who are conscientiously conducting a group activity.

The panelists concurred on the topic of school codes. Some schools set up student committees to make rules, and in many instances students are more strict with the standards they set for themselves than if adults had prepared the code for them.

Regarding the teen-agers problem of "going steady," sometimes one of those going steady gets frightened by possible consequences of the situation, but is afraid not to go steady because everybody is doing so.

Another problem typical of a suburban community is the lack of time the commuting father has to spend with his children. Dr. Wilson observed there was a need for more identification with males, beginning at an early age. Some of this deficit can be supplied by male teachers or in contacts in extra curricular activities such as scouting.

A recent survey in a peninsula community revealed the average time per week spent by fathers with their junior high school age sons was 12 minutes!

Have we failed to give our children something they need? Have we overlooked moral and spiritual values, values that may produce democratic behavior, values of trust, integrity? When we were a less complex culture—fifty years ago—it was easier to pinpoint the characteristics that would make a good American.

Today our boys need a code of behavior when they go into the army, and we must start laying groundwork now. What have we missed along the line in relation to this basic needs? Dr. Wilson believes we have to internalize, develop some concept to a moral and a spiritual life.

How can Orinda people prepare themselves to accept minority groups? It is difficult not to be fearful of something different, whether it is the color of the skin or the degree of the intellect, the "egghead." We have to learn that individuals have unique contributions that are quite valuable.

Dr. Wilson indicated having our children have experiences in summer camps with minority groups or in a working kind of situation will help dispel prejudices. On this vein, the moderator, Mrs. Duckles, told how the Berkeley schools hired two Negro teachers to break the barrier and pave the way for acceptance of Negro children in the schools.

The feeling in the home is the feeling that is transmitted and this is what we should watch.

What does television do to reading? Sometimes more books are taken from the library as a result of some interest sparked by a program. However, research indicates achievement in reading falls off with uncontrolled viewing, simply because little time is left for reading.

As requested by these highly interested parents, future programs are being planned on child guidance, fluoridation and adolescence.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Speaks in Orinda

U. S. Chamber of Commerce District Manager Dolly Dollinger spoke to Orinda Chamber of Commerce members on "Protecting the Economy of the Community" at last Tuesday's noon meeting at the Casa Orinda.

Dollinger, speaking on the National Chamber's 1959 Aircade Legislative Action said that the Aircade will be in San Francisco on February 20.

AT A DINNER to be held at the Fairmont hotel there, top experts will discuss taxation, social security, labor legislation, government controls of business and agriculture.

The purpose of the meeting, Dollinger said, will be to "give you better understanding of legislation in Washington and how it affects you."

Dollinger also suggested appointing a Congressional Action Committee from members of the community. Their function would be to meet weekly and study legislation, then express community opinions to the legislators.

"We are not concerned with what Washington can do for us, But what Washington can do to us, Dollinger said.

THE AIRCADE for Legislative Action will tour the country, holding sessions in each of several cities scheduled on the tour. Following speeches by experts at the San Francisco meeting, local businessmen attending the session will be able to ask questions and receive answers to their community's problems and concerns with federal legislation.

John Ogden presided at Tuesday's meeting. During the regular business portion of the program, Ken Courtright reported on the Man of the Year Dinner.

CLARENCE BETZ reported on Greyhound activities in trying to find a new franchise holder for Orinda. Suggestions were made for potential franchise holders.

Ramsay Underwood reported on the Beautification Committee and his Co-Chairman Stan Allen amplified the report.

Allen spoke on the problem of putting tubs with trees in more symmetrical form. He also suggested that Orinda have street traffic lines repainted. "There is ample room for tubs if people park between lines. Having the lines repainted would facilitate this."

Members of the committee met last Sunday night to discuss the maintenance of tubs. Suggestions were made to have each business man take care of the tub in front of his building, but the committee felt it better to hire someone for this work.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS said that maintenance of Bryant Way could be handled along with maintenance of the tubs.

John Ogden suggested that committee members consider the maintenance problem further and report back to the Chamber.

Present plans call for the planting of flowering chestnut trees on Bryant Way. It is hoped that individuals will volunteer to sponsor trees. The committee hopes to plant eight to 12 trees along the fence.

JOHN OGDEN reported that a new furniture store and a new dress shop will open in the village March 12.

The ninth annual College of the Pacific Music Clinic will bring more than 2800 selected northern California high school musicians to Stockton Saturday, February 7.

A day of intensive instruction and rehearsal will be climaxed by a festival concert in Stockton Civic Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. when a chorus of more than 1800 voices, a 700-piece concert band, and a 350 member symphony orchestra will perform. Orinda will be represented at the Pacific Music Clinic by selected members from the orchestra, band and chorus of Miramonte High School accompanied by Director Gordon E. Mallory.

Irwin Hoffman, resident conductor of the Vancouver B. C Symphony is the band master. Kurt Herbert Adler, San Francisco Opera Company director, will conduct the symphony.

Musicians from 129 coast and interior high schools from Bakersfield to Eureka, plus Redondo Beach and Medford, Oregon, will participate. It is the largest registration for the annual valley event.

The clinic is an "honor" experience for outstanding school musicians according to David Lawson, director of the day and of the annual summer season Pacific Music Camp.

Enrollment is limited to carefully screened students recommented by local school music directors who have rehearsed their entrants for weeks in advence.

Limited seating for the concert will be open to the public. Tickets are free, but must be obtained in advance through the Pacific Music Camp office.

Rapid Transit Secretary Gives 'Financial Picture'

General obligation bonds, among other sources of revenue, will probably have to be used to finance a rapid transit system designed to transform the San Francisco Bay Area transportation patterns, Captain Angus M. Cohan, secretary of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District told the Contra Costa Liason Committee's finance advisory sub-committee here.

The district's program should be ready to present to voters of the five participating counties in the form of a bond issue election by June of 1960.

The sub-committee met at the Contra Costa County Taxpayers Association with seven members present.

County Auditor-Controller Howard McNamer, Chairman Aubrey Macomber, Jack Kowlaski of Martinez, V. W. Parachini of Antioch, Dick Mitchell and Tony Cvietusa of Walnut Creek and D. M. Teeter of El Cerrito were at the meeting.

Those present asked that the transit district board be requested to set up a demonstration project to illustrate the need as well as the effectiveness of rapid transit.

Harry L. Morrison Jr., one of three Contra Costa directors, will relay the suggestion to the Liason Committee at its February meeting.

The establishment of a rapid transit system including a tube under San Francisco Bay and about 123 miles of grade-separated road-bed for electrified trains, will cost about $875 million for its first stage, Cohan told the committee.

Expected revenues from fares are projected at $29 million a year.

Cohan said that part of the $57 million annual cost, including operations and debt servicing, would have to be borne by bridge tolls in addition to a retail sales tax and possibly a gasoline tax.

However, he stated that financing plans have not yet gone beyond the planning stage and Stanford Research Institute has been hired by the board to study the best means of financing the plan.

Cohan emphasized the need of educating the three million people of the Bay Area to the need for rapid transit and the problems in the engineering and financial fields which must be met by the district.

LEADERSHIP is shown in many ways, and Mrs. Thelma Braly, by her service to the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, has demonstrated her special brand. Named "Salesman of the Year" by a special committee, she is congratulated by Donald Weeks, manager of Mason McDuffie Company, where she is a staff member. Mrs. Braly was president of the "Women's Division" last year. —Sun photo by Rod Lomas

Campfire Girls Begin Candy Sale Today

Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls of Central Contra Costa Council of Camp Fire Girls will start their annual sale of delicious candy mints today.

The girls will be ringing your doorbell and also selling at various store and bank locations with the cooperation of local firms.

In addition, a share of the sale money is allocated to the individual group, averaging 10 girls, for their own activities. Then too, each girl selling candy can earn credits to be applied against her cost for summer resident camp.

Hitchings, sale chairman, Lafayette; assisted by Mrs. H. O. Boghosian, Lafayette; Mrs. Charles Hart and Mrs. Eugene Schmidt, Walnut Creek.

Construction Of Schools is Manual Topic

A manual to help school districts get the most for the construction dollar, building-wise and education-wise, has been issued by the office of Contra Costa County Superintendent of Schools.

Assistant County Superintendent Harold De Fraga said copies of the Manual on School Building Construction are available to schools and, in limited number, to other interested agencies and individuals.

The publication is based on a study by R. Dick Cleland, intern at the University of California.

It follows the construction of a school building, step by step, from site acquisition and development through construction to furnishing and equipping.

"Detailed instructions are given for state-aided construction, which requires a much greater volume of paperwork and conformity with a multitude of state regulations," said De Fraga.

Mrs. Collier Amazed at Ad Results!

"I have never had such response!" said Mrs. C. H. Collier of Concord who placed her classified ad in The Sun and Sun Shopping News, and a week later had sold $150 worth of washed wool coats, "for rug braiders."

Mrs. Collier added that she had received no response in other papers she tried, and she requested that her ad run indefinitely.

Clifford Adams of Pleasant Hill told The Sun that his classified ad for his 1951 sedan had brought in a buyer five minutes after the Wednesday Sun Shopping News had been delivered to the homes.

Neil Southworth of Pleasant Hill said that he had no trouble selling his Bedlington terrier, AKC, with a Sun classified.

All Sun classifieds automatically run in the Sun Shopping News on Wednesday and in the Lafayette Sun, Walnut Creek Sun, Pleasant Hill Sun and Orinda Sun on Friday.

The classified customer gets all this for a single price of $1.60 for the minimum-rate ad, with 14 or less words.

Ads should be submitted or placed by phone by Tuesday morning at 10 of the week desired. Saturday and Monday are good days in which to call.

Be sure and give your baby sitter the name of someone nearby to contact in case of emergency. Be sure and leave the telephone number of a police agency, fire department and doctor, too.

Go to Church Sunday

Episcopal

The Rev. Philip J. Daunton, Th.D., rector of St. Michael and All Angels' Church, Concord, will give the first of a series of Lenten meditations at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek, on Ash Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Born in England and educated at Oxford University, Dr. Daunton served in the British army as captain before coming to this country. He received the degree of Master of Theology from Princeton Seminary and Doctor of Theology from the Pacific School of Religion and taught for five years at the Church Divinity School of the Pacific.

He served as curate at St. Clement's, Berkeley, and as Priest-in-Charge at Crockett before coming to the Concord parish where he has been for the past five years.

St. Paul's traditional pancake supper commemorating Shrove Tuesday will be held on Feb. 10 in the parish hall from 6 to 8 p.m.

In the early days of the church, Shrovetide, the days immediately preceding Ash Wednesday, were set aside as a time for confessing one's sins (being shriven) in preparation for Lent. This duty having been fulfilled, the faithful were given permission to indulge themselves in amusements. Carnival time in some countries and the Mardi Gras of the French are survivals of this tradition in the present day.

Members of St. Anne's Guild are in charge of the supper with Mrs. Robert H. Moore as chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Gardner and Mrs. E. C. Craig. Tickets for adults are $1 and 50 cents for children.

Christian Science

The healing power of spiritual enlightenment will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

The local Christian Science Society of Orinda holds its services in the Christian Science church at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

Paul's healing of the cripple at Lystra, as related in the Book of Acts (CH. 14), will be included in the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit."

A correlative passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy declares (324 :19): "Paul was not at first a disciple of Jesus but a persecutor of Jesus' followers. When the truth first appeared to him in Science, Paul was made blind, and his blindness was felt; but spiritual light soon enabled him to follow the example and teachings of Jesus, healing the sick and preaching Christianity throughout Asia Minor, Greece, and even in imperial Rome."

The Golden Text is from I John (4:6, 13): "We are of God . . . Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit."

It's Already Too Late, and We Have to Go Underground

Let's go underground again.

Not in the subversive sense, nor in the hibernation sense, but rather, let's talk about an underground subject.

Because that's what it's going to take to move the thousands of cars from Contra Costa County to Alameda County—and back again without a monumental traffic jam.

We'll have to go underground and build a new tunnel—in fact, another Broadway Low Level Tunnel.

Nobody will argue that the present twin-bore tunnel has done an excellent job. Without it, we would still be a cow county. But it has become superannuated.

AND THE WORST of the problem is that it takes a long time to construct a tunnel. Reflect on the amount of time it takes to complete such projects as the Lafayette Bypass and the Walnut Creek interchange.

These are not simple projects, but compared to twin bores through the Berkeley Hills, they are child's play.

And what is going to happen between the time it takes to appropriate funds, do the engineering and design work, do the surveying and call for bids?

And what is going to happen while the bids are let and construction is in process?

You can make a pretty good guess.

Traffic is going to become increasingly snarled. Where it backs up now to El Nido on busy commute mornings, it will back up to Walnut Creek.

This will be intolerable.

ALSO, COMPLETION of the freeway link between Lafayette and Orinda will not help this situation—in fact, it will aggravate it.

Cars will be able to flow freely on divided highway and three-lane freeway until they hit the tunnel, and then they've had it.

There can be no question but that we need a new bore—or twin bore—and we need it now.

Already we are in trouble. The tunnel could not possibly be completed in time to avert the traffic problems that are already too evident.

And each day we wait the problem becomes greater. There is no sign from the State Division of Highways that anything is "in the works." The state has ultimate plans, of course, for twin bores, but these have been on tap for years.

SO IS THE SHEPHERD Canyon Freeway on tap, but it would not help the traffic problem on Mt. Diablo Boulevard to a measurable extent. It will be vital when the Moraga area is built up, but it is obviously secondary in need to improvement of the present overloaded conditions.

This can only be in the nature of a plea. The Diablo Highway Improvement Association is aware of the problem and is working hard toward a solution.

We can only hope that our supervisors and our legislators are aware of the gravity of the situation and will do everything in their power to bring the project to reality.

It might help if all of us dropped a note to our elected officials and explained how much we feel the need for the construction of additional bores to the Broadway Low-Level Tunnel.

Something is going to have to be done right away.

We're already too late.

Here's to DA's Legislation

Sometimes it's pretty hard to tell, but from here it looks good!

A change is about to take place, and frankly, it's long overdue.

We're referring to the District Attorney's Office—and private practice on the side—and deputy district attorneys.

Since John Nejedly has assumed the post we have had an honest-to-goodness full-time district attorney.

Of course, this is what we should have, and it seems silly to have to rave about what we are actually paying for, but nevertheless it's true.

NEJEDLY HAS written a bill which has been submitted to the legislature by Assemblyman S. C. Masterson which will insure that all future district attorneys relinquish any private practice before they assume the elected post.

This is something that The Sun has been demanding editorially for these many years, and finally it has come about.

Of course, the legislation has not yet been enacted, and we're keeping a quiet eye open, but it looks as if the show is on the road.

Nice part about it, too, is that the legislation directs that all future deputy district attorneys will relinquish their private practice. We think this is great. We'll not only have a full-time district attorney, but a full-time staff.

IF THIS IS DONE, of course, it will be up to the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors to adjust the salary scale so that it is commensurate with the full-time position for the deputy district attorneys.

Also, the present deputies may continue with their outside practice (on their own time and in their own office) because they are protected by civil service and were hired with this understanding.

But as they leave and are replaced, the picture will change.

So things are looking up.

Maybe this will be an even better year for Contra Costa County!

And It'll Be a Real Ball...

Basketball is one of the finest spectator sports played in America today.

It has action. The action is close to the spectators, so that the most myopic individual can achieve some sense of participation, and it is fast.

Furthermore, it is simple to score. A couple of points for a basket and one for a free throw.

So why the pitch for basketball?

IT'S JUST THAT there is an opportunity coming up next Friday night that shouldn't be missed—especially by fathers and their young progeny.

It will be the Sun's annual Father and Children's Night at Diablo Valley College when the Diablo Valley Vikings take on San Jose City College.

The clincher to the program is that the kids get in free if they are with an adult. That puts father (or maybe even mom) on the hook for sure.

Just clip out the coupon which you will find in the front section of this issue of The Sun and send it to The Sun with a stamped self-addressed envelope and indicate how many children you will be bringing to the game.

Don't send any money!

RESERVATIONS WILL be taken on a first come, first served basis, and from the turnout of past such events, it is wise to make your reservations early. Last year there were some disappointed youngsters who had to be turned away at the door.

And a better opportunity for dads and sons (and daughters, too!) to get together for an evening an evening out is hard to imagine. It only costs $1 per adult, and the children are free.

It should be a ball (basket and otherwise) so why not plan to attend!

See you at the game!

Needed: The 'Rifleman'...

By NORMAN COLBY

If Chuck Connors, television's "Rifleman", discovered that his television son, Mark, had been shooting "bee-bees" at store windows, he would have whaled the living tar out of him—in the best tradition of the firm father. But there is no "Rifleman" in central Contra Costa.

But there are plenty of bee-bee gun toters, however.

Most of them use their bee-bee guns for target shooting which we assume, or hope, is the intention of manufacturers, just as most adults use their sporting rifles for the right purposes.

But just as some adults tragically never grow up, some kids never get big enough to own bee-bee guns.

They go looking for store windows, and fire at passing cars.

The "Rifleman" might possibly say to his "son": Doggone it, sonny! If you're mad at the world, say so. Go out and tackle it! Get it out of your system, but do it so you'll not be ashamed of yourself afterwards! But don't sneak around with that blasted bee-bee gun!"

Or maybe the "Rifleman" might even word it better.

Kids and bee-bee guns are a lot alike. Maybe that's why they are so often found together.

Both bee-bee guns and kids can be a source of danger to those around them, or a source of accomplishment.

They can be pointed habitually in the wrong direction until it is too late to "correct" the aim. They can waste their initial and greatest power on small-time misdoings.

There's one difference—a bee-bee gun has no regrets.

Feed Thy Soul But Please Don't Eat The Zinnias...

By MARIE MONAHAN

THE WARM SUN shines for three days running and the Species Suburbanite noses to the neighborhood nursery like a hunting dog off to the Hunt.

It is a strange and exciting season.

We're in a hypnotic state. And the Hoe and the Sod are calling.

WE TAKE A CRITICAL LOOK at the backyard, the bare hillside or the winter-weary garden, Master of all we survey!

We will improve things, get close to the good earth, call a spade a spade. Brighten the old corner where we are.

So it's off to the Garden Store.

To go to the Garden Store for supplies, we must dress the part.

The species suburbanite, even if he doesn't know a pansy from a petunia must LOOK like a greenthumber.

THIS makes the Nursery People happy.

They think, "Remember that guy? He didn't know a pansy from a petunia when he started coming in here, but look at him now!"

HE MUST, THEY meditate, spend all his time in his great mortgaged outdoors. Why else would he wear those horrid pants, those boondockin' boots and that frightful flannel shirt he told us his wife spilled clorox on? He's a real country-convert.

This is what the nursery people are thinking.

BOY! Do we play a Good Game. Those of us who are old window-box lovers from the city apt. days, we fool 'em. We even fool ourselves!

We are victims of that annual communicable homeowner's disease, Garden Grippe!

IN THE CITY, you can get it out of your system by taking a stroll to the park and breaking bread with the pigeons.

Here, in Suburbia, we tie to the vendors of the plants and posies, to succumb to the sprays, buy flats of flowers and load up on the colorful seed packets.

The Same Thing every year. Victims of a vernal virus, a temporary ailment.

We'll give the Sweet Peas one more go . . . and try for carrots and corn in the old So' Forty again.

We'll sow the Zinnias and sure-fire Nasturtiums. Nasturtiums sprout even for Kindergardeners, in baby food cans. And they make good eating. No, NOT the Kindergardeners, the nasturtiums. For the birds!

After 8 years and about 30 packs of zinnia seeds at 25 cents a throw, the four lone blooms we finally found for the dinner table last summer amounted to a pretty extravagant bouquet. We never though of eating THEM! We should've. At THAT price!

BUT WE HOPE FOR ONE good watermelon. It's worth another whirl. To satisfy the soul, plant the seeds, till the soil, dress the part.

The way we figure it, if the watermelon winds up fat, green and shiny in the icebox just ONCE, it will be the most expensive piece of melon ever et. Et vous?

Inside Out...

Do You Clean Your Plate As You Really Should??

By JOYCE BARNUM

Do you belong to the clean plate club?

I have for many years now. Now that I don't need to, I find that I was so well conditioned in my childhood that I can't break the habit.

DURING THE conditioning period, the line in use was a puzzlement to me. "Clean up your plate now. Think of all the hungry and starving children who would love to have that food."

While I sat at the table stolidly shoveling in the food, I pondered mightily on the problem that always confronted me. "If I eat this food, how am I helping a hungry or starving child?"

This led to impossible daydreaming which filled me with zeal to somehow spirit a plateful of food to a starving child somewhere.

THEN IN A more practical vein I used to plan to try to leave some especially loved food on my plate which would eventually wind up at a garbage dump. Here I could visualize hordes of hungry and starving children gleaning the choice morsels and falling upon them with eagerness.

Nonetheless I ate the food placed before me because I was a reasonably obedient child, if somewhat rebellious at times. Apparently I was also hungry.

Only once did I venture to express my improbable thoughts aloud. I was promptly, firmly and effectively shushed by my elders who informed me that this was foolish thinking and furthermore was not fit table conversation.

But my foolish thinking is still very much in existence.

How did I help the hungry and starving children by cleaning my plate?

Driver's Skills Taught in Course

Ten drivers have taken a course in Motor Service Driver's Skills given by Karl Mahler, manager of Greater Mt. Diablo Red Cross Chapter.

This is a prerequisite for a Motor Service certificate.

Included in the course were demonstrations in how to use flares and how to change a flat tire.

Those who completed the course were Mesdames Sylvia London, chairman; A. R. Angel, Dorothy Geary, Thora Guinn, Mary Hogan, Faith Kleigerman, Mary Lawrence, Helen Loeb, Arnold Nelson, Ethel Tinkham.

THANKS

DEAR EDITOR:

The Orinda Beautification Committee wishes to thank The Sun for the fine publicity which your paper gave to our Freeway Planting Project.

The response by people in the community interested in conservation and landscaping, by Scout leaders, high school clubs, garden clubs, and the many youngsters that turned out that Saturday morning was very gratifying.

We are hoping that this can be at least a five-year project, with new seedlings going in every year. We are also hoping that a program can be worked out with Scout groups which will help these seedlings survive the first two crucial years.

William Penn Mott's plan made the project one of landscaping rather than haphazard planting of evergreen seedlings. This is the first time a project of this scale has been done in the County.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank the following firms whose donations of food made our refreshments possible: Neldam's Bakery, Hagstrom's, Lucky Market, T & V Meats, Hills Bros. Coffee, Carnation Milk Co., Polka Dot, Orinda Store, and the Village Beauty Studio. We would also like to express our appreciation to Fred Troy's Associated Service Station for all their assistance and to Joe Navone for picking up the cans left at El Toyonal intersection.

THANKS

DEAR EDITOR:

Our Lodge wishes to thank the Walnut Creek Sun for the many courtesies extended them during the past year.

We also wish to thank the society editor for picture and article appearing in your paper January 23, for the installation of officers.

FAYE GIBSON

DOPE

DEAR EDITOR:

The Elks' bill will not eliminate the problem of the "dope pusher."

What is needed are clinics which operate for the eventual cure of the addict, and the "pusher" is usually an addict.

We should put away for lifetime the drunk driver, who in his intoxication causes a death in an auto accident, or execute the drunk driver in this case,

This is the same reasoning used in the Elks' bill.

This was pointed out by Edward T. Mancuso, public defender of the City and County of San Francisco, before the Conference of California Probation, Parole and Correctional Association.

We have the death penalty for other crimes, but there continues to be crimes committed daily which call for the death penalty after trial.

A life sentence or the death penalty is not the answer! Clinics should be supported and operated so that the dope pusher does not work underground.

TOM KENDALL

THANKS

DEAR EDITOR:

We of the Juvenile Hall Auxiliary wish to "Thank you" for the wonderful help you have given to us on behalf of our troubled children.

Nearly 400 children, who are wards of Contra Costa County Courts had a happier Christmas because many understanding people read of our needs.

Volunteers have joined us, to work all year in our 24 service projects at the Hall.

NARCOTICS

DEAR EDITOR:

Knowing of your great interest in the problems of narcotics, I am forwarding to you a copy of an address given by Edward T. Mancuso, public defender of the City and County of San Francisco. This report presents some very interesting views on the entire subject and some extremely advanced conclusions.

Although I do not necessarily agree with the conclusions of Mr. Mancuso, I feel that a positive aspect of this report is that the narcotics problem is treated more on a factual basis than an emotional basis.

Although I recognize the horror of the problem, I sometimes feel that discussions tend to become beclouded with emotion and often overlook aspects as to which considerable attention should be given.

You might be interested in knowing that the District Attorneys' Association of the State of California has indicated they intend to oppose the Elks Bill. Part of their reason appears to be that they feel convictions will not be obtainable under the provisions of that bill. I have written District Attorney Nejedly for his views.

I would be most interested in receiving your comments on this report and on the position that the District Attorneys' Association evidently will take.

JEROME R. WALDIE

(Ed. Note: The District Attorney's Association has not taken this stand to our knowledge).

How Many Cavities Did Your Kids Have in 1958?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

"Hey, boss, you haven't yakked much about fluoridation lately," said Snoopy, the office cat. "How Come?"

Well, Snoop, last year there wasn't too much to talk about. But now there is, with the pending bill in the state legislature to "permit" East Bay Municipal Utility District to call an election on fluoridation. (Actually, EBMud can call an election without legislation but this is the way they want to do it).

Anyway, Snoopy, this week let's discuss fluoridation—for two reasons. One is that next week is Children's Dental Health Week and the County Dental Association has sent some new reports.

A message from Sacramento

Reason number 2: I received this memo from our Assemblyman Jerry Waldie, in answer to my letter asking his position on the EBMud fluoridation bill. Jerry writes:

"May I once again assure you of my complete support of your position regarding fluoridation of EBMUD (water)."

I am awaiting a reply from our State Senator, George Miller.

Well, let's talk about fluoridation—what, where, when, etc.:

There is no vaccine that protects children from tooth decay, but there is a method that can prevent up to 65 per cent of decay.

This method is the fluoridation of water, adjusting the fluorine content of public water supplies to the optimum amount, one part per million parts of water. Children who drink such water from birth have considerably fewer cavities than youngsters who are denied this advantage.

A message from nature

Nature's own experiments first proved the value and safety of fluoridated water. In fact, some natural water supplies contain as much as 5-10 parts of fluorine per million parts of water. While this excess causes no bodily harm, it does cause stained or "mottled" teeth.

Investigators trying to learn the cause of this staining were surprised to find that persons with mottled teeth had much less than the usual amount of decay. Further investigation showed the cause of the staining and the resistance to decay to be the same—fluoride. It also indicated the amount of fluoride—one part per million—that would produce resistance to decay without mottling.

After exhaustive studies had been made, cities began adding fluoride to water supplies deficient in that element. Today, 14 years after the first community fluoridation program was started, more than 33.5 million persons in 1,651 communities are supplied water in which the fluoride content has been adjusted up to around one part of fluoride per million parts of water.

A message from the budget

At Antioch, Gregory Gardens, and San Francisco the cost of fluoridation is around seven cents per person per year.

At Antioch, after five years of fluoridation, the 6 to 8-year-old continuous resident children had 48 per cent less decay, compared to a similar age group examined before fluoridation began at that city.

This method of reducing tooth decay is a real bargain, as 97 per cent of Americans suffer from decay at some time in their lives. About one-sixth of the money spent for family health and hospital services is spent for dental care.

Older children and adults may possibly gain some benefits from fluoridation. But the chief beneficiaries are the children who drink fluoridated water from birth. Their resistance to decay will be life-long.

A message from other communities

In the Bay Area the following communities are supplied with fluoridated water: Antioch, Gregory Gardens, Pleasanton, Hayward, Vallejo, St. Helena, Healdsburg, San Francisco, Daly City, South San Francisco, Colma, Brisbane, San Bruno, Burlingame, Hillsborough, Millbrae, San Mateo, Belmont, San Carlos, Palo Alto, and Morgan Hill.

Other places in California supplying fluoridated water include: Rosemont District (Sacramento), Placerville, Gridley, and Oroville in the north and Fresno District No. 11, San Luis Obispo, Fort Ord, and Los Banos in the south.

Why not here?

SUMMER SWIM

DEAR EDITOR:

I want to thank The Sun for its fine editorial on the Miramonte Swim Pool Project. Speaking as an individual citizen, as well as a member of the Pool Committee, I feel that The Sun plays a very vital part in the community through its editorials.

I would like to re-word the closing line of the Swim-Pool Editorial, if I may: "Thorough campaigining this year will mean good swimming next year" should be changed to read — "Good swimming this SUMMER, and in all the years to come." The pool opening is scheduled for "early summer" —construction-weather permitting.

Besides thanking The Sun for its cooperation with our committee, may I also take this opportunity to thank the 5 Orinda and Moraga Supermarkets who this weekend, distributed "Fact Sheets" about the pool project.

Also in line for sincere thanks are: Spencer Archer, donations of posters and other advertising media; Bob Waldie, donations of cards and printing; Frances and Joe Navone, addressograph work; and over 500 student volunteers, who will canvass Orinda, Moraga and Canyon on February 27, 28 and March 1.

The hard-working committee members are too numerous to name, but without them we would not be planning to swim this summer.

MRS. ROBERT BOWLES

DEAR EDITOR:

I read the article on "Try A Little Experiment" in Joyce Barnum's Inside Out column in last week's Sun and it made me quite angry. With all the accidents we are having and the Safety Council trying to get people to obey the law, she practically tells them they are fools if they do.

I agree that many (too many) people go over the speed limit, but then there are many who rob too but does that mean we should?

Maybe some of the signs are unreasonable but I don't know where? But the answer to that is not to encourage breaking the law but to get the speed limit changed.

Your paper has written how traveling on Gregory Lane should be slowed down. That it's being patroled because of the speeders there. Well I travel that road and I know how hard it is to go 25 M.P.H. on it, but I can understand why they have that speed limit. But even if I couldn't I'd still think the speed limit should be obeyed.

If she had given the impression that nine out of ten that disobey the law were in the wrong, it would have been all right, but, no, she writes "Try driving the legal speed sometime, not as a practice, just as an experiment."

That really made me angry. I believe in people obeying the law as a practice not as an experiment. What we need is to cut down on the speed not to disobey the law.

Daze of Gold a Bonanza Benefit

By MARIE MONAHAN

"DAZE OF GOLD," the frothy confection whipped up so successfully for the first time last year by the Oakland Junior League, is just around the corner on the calendar for the second annual time.

And it's for sure that local members numbered among the committee heads and members already at work on the big moneymaking affair as well as their sisters who are scheduled to step into rehearsing chorus lines soon, will be in a daze themselves from now on right up until the Big Evening.

The festive fund-raiser, proceeds of which are put into the League's Community Trust Fund coffers and then returned to the community through various projects, will be held at the Claremont Hotel on Friday, February 27.

The black-tie affair, for an expected throng of 1100, will offer an evening of variety comparable to a box of BonBons and certainly twice as toothsome, to commence with cocktails and a Joseph Magnin fashion show at 7 p.m.

Mr. Paul Speegle will inject his wit into the fashion commentary as well as the style-show finale when he will be Auctioneer for a complete outfit going-going-gone to the highest bidder, one article at a time.

A buffet dinner will be served in the Garden Room at 8:30 until midnight and dancing will be to the music of Ray Hackett and his orchestra.

The stage review, this year to be titled "Viva La Theatre" will be presented twice during the evening in the Gold Room to accommodate the expected crowd. As last year, Mr. Howard Miller, a member of Jerome Cargill Productions of New York, will direct the show, which assures its success.

Area members of the Oakland League who are already deep in action for "Daze" include Mrs. Harrison Beardsley of Orinda who'll chairman the decorations committee assisted by the Mesdames Samuel Haslett, Heber Smith, George Simpson, William Sibbett, all of Orinda, and Mrs. Philip Angell, Jr. of Lafayette.

The gay gala evening is under the direction of Ways and Means Chairman Mrs. John Loper of Berkeley who is being assisted by Mrs. Joseph Longacre, Jr. and Mrs. William Platt, both of Orinda who are working on the Talent end, Mrs. Frank Lord of Lafayette, whose chairman duties are instrumental—the Orchestra, Mrs. Lee G. Blake Calder of Orinda who will muster the Hostesses and Ushers and Mrs. Johnson Clark of Lafayette and Mrs. Lawrence Hudson of Danville who will tend to details of the Programs.

OVER THE PAST year, the League has contributed Trust Fund monies to the Junior Center of Art and Science at the Mosswood Recreation Center, Contra Costa County Volunteer Bureau, education television station KQED and the East Bay Activity Center for Emotionally Disturbed Children.

Over its 24-year history, the League's contribution to community projects has amounted to $150,000. And "Daze of Gold" will be this year's boost.

Alpha Xi Delta Alum Meet Here

Alpha Xi Delta alumnae of Diablo Valley Chapter held their January meeting at the home of their president, Mrs. Robert Smith of Van Cleave Lane in Walnut Creek. Following the business meeting to discuss plans for the coming year, the group vied for white elephant prizes over the bridge tables.

The Integrated and Sight-Saving classes at Buena Vista School in Walnut Creek have just received the Braille map of the United States from funds which were donated as a result of the Alpha Xi's annual benefit bridge party.

Additional Braille books were also donated. Another project of the group is the sending of birthday presents and cards each month to children at an orphanage in Ukiah.

During the holidays the members were entertained at an open house held at the home of Mrs. Richard Melrose of Las Huertas Road in Lafayette. The Alpha Xi Deltas assisted the Contra Costa Tuberculosis Society in preparing Christmas Seals for mailing during an evening meeting in Pleasant Hill.

Some like it hot—some cold. Cec and Gen Cantrill spent last week at "Smoke Tree Ranch" in Palm Springs and Betty and David Coleman, with their daughters, Terry and Holly, chose Mt. Rose, Nevada, for a week-end of delightful skiing. Back from a motoring vacation in the Rockies are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Moore and their son, Roger, who visited with relatives there.

A peek at what's going on . . .

Tidbits from here and there — Nora and Bob Cook were guests at a dinner party given by Betty and Norm Mann. Eight additional couples were present. Betty (Mrs. Sam) Conti is expecting a little one in about four weeks. Edith Mansfield is rejoicing these days over the recovery of her husband following a heart attack—he will return to work very soon, now.

Jay and Tom Bond spent five busy days in and around Los Angeles—doing the usual. Dorothy Thompson spent a week-end with Jeanne and Harry Cravan. She was here to help with a send-off for her parents, the A. H. Thompsons of Orinda—more on their Panama trip later.

Pearl and Wayne Barrett and Dolores and Fred Cochran co-hosted with a dinner party recently. Nine couples were their guests. Mrs. Charles H. Wilson, Barbara Spitzack's 93 year old Grandmother flew out from Chicago for a Walnut Creek vacation. All of her relatives are looking forward to her promised return in seven years for a 100th birthday celebration. No doubt—with such spunk—she will arrive via an aero-propelled jet something-or-other!

A cattleman gets a write-up

In the news—Orinda cattleman, Frank Dutra is being featured in an article titled "Portrait of a Cattleman". You will find it in the January issue of the Western Livestock Journal.

Frank, owner of the really fabulous Dutra Ranch on Bear Creek Road, is such a friendly and generous person and I'm sure his lovely Laura is THAT proud over this accolade.

A series of three book reviews will be presented by charming Mary (Mrs. John) Dorr at the Orinda Community Church on Feb. 26, March 12 and May 7. At this annual event, sponsored by the Oriole Unit of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, tea will be served. "Green Kingdom" will be the first offering with titles for the following two to be announced at a later date. Mary has a great gift for reviewing—don't miss this chance to hear her—and she's so pretty, too!

A group of lovelies who live on either Estates or Canyon Drives in Happy Valley have termed themselves the "Hilltoppers" and they gather for luncheons and bridge every other month. Last Thursday the hostess was Mrs. John Ward and this was kind of extra-special for the Wards will be moving to the Islands very soon. Enjoying the afternoon were the Mmes. Lloyd Swayne, Tyko Enbom, Gerald Awes, Howard Stewart, Phillip Johnson, John Edwards, James Kilpatrick, Paul Levatin, William McGuire and, ALMOST, Mrs. Robert Cornforth—who, at the very last minute, was called to Martinez for jury duty.

By golly, it's fashion time again!

As if you didn't know! It's fashion show time again. On March 14 the Alpha Lamba chapter (of Walnut Creek) of Omega Nu is having its annual luncheon in the brand new "Empire Room" at the Claremont Hotel. The fashions, for this Saturday event, will be provided by "Alma's" of the Leamington—always noted for her extreme and handsome styles.

Lovely Muriel Alexander, who will be one of the models, was telling me that a prize will be a "Gourmet's Tour of Twelve Leading Restaurants of the Bay Area!" One at a time—OF COURSE! All proceeds will go to Enchanted Hills in the Valley of the Moon—a recreational camp for sightless children.

Joyce and Carl Marino attended a large housewarming recently at Peggy and Bernard Gross' home in Lake Chabot Highlands. The latter couple are back in this area after a few years "leave of absence" in Merced.

Ilene and Harry Askam of Concord attended a "Horseless Carriage" installation dinner at "Don and Ann's" in Montclair Saturday night. Harry was appointed program chairman for the year—a good excuse for even more delightful running around in their precious little 1907 Maxwell.

The Cardinals of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center held their first meeting of the new year at the home of the new president, Carol Hodges. All of the new officers were there, as well as the appointed chairmen of committees. They were Peggy Smith, Peg Arena, Gloria Shultz, Nancy Cassani, Bev Phillips, Fran Thiele, Dorris Daly,, Ilene Askham, Bobby Burton, Joyce Marino and Lynn Dini.

Just some pleasant conversation . . .

There was no special occasion to celebrate—but Marge (Mrs. Raymond) Ramsay invited a large group of neighbors to her home in Walnut Creek for a mid-day chit-chat. It was a relaxing, catch-up-on-the-latest interlude, the dismal day made cheery with huge, burning logs, good, hot coffee and SUCH delicious pastries.

Donna Winslow and Trudie Merton were accompanied by their small daughters. Trudie also brought her mother-in-law who hails from Minnesota but is spending a few winter weeks here. Some of the others were Esther Deriod, Betty Burrin, Gwen Upshaw, Iva McGuire, May O'Neil, Wanda Obert, Ruth Harris, Lucille Fickett, Joan Kalberg, Sandy McDougal, Julie Mischter and Rama Lee.

Rama was telling about her family's wonderful trip to Utah where they visited with her parents in Salt Lake. They were entertained almost nightly, either in that city or in Ogden. The trip was made in the Lee's brand new car and was a special treat for Rama and Earl as their twins, Pat (girl) and Mike had just obtained driver's licenses and (thrilled to pieces) took their turns at the wheel. Young Billy went along for the ride.

The now famous "Manhattan Bridge Club" — composed of Lorraine Bray and Lucy Gordon of Martinez and Jackie Fain and Bobbye McGuire of Walnut Creek and Lafayette met at the Bray home last week—as has been their custom for ALL these many years. (They DO take turns on location.)

All went swimmingly until a plaintive phone call came from seven year old Edward Gordon. Net result: four scattered "Manhatteners" and an emergency appendectomy for Master Gordon! As I recall, that very morning, at the Therapy Coordinating Council meeting. Lucy was predicting—"I just KNOW that in 1959 we're not going to have ONE single sickness". Some predicting, Lucy!

That's not what the bathtub's for . . .

News of the Starlings: Ever try washing dishes in the bathtub? NO FUN! Ask Millie Lapham. What began as a one-room addition ended in completely remodeling the house. Millie reports highly successful results, but NEVER again — especially during the winter months! (Seems to me I've heard THAT song before—especially sung by Towhee Pat (Mrs. John) Raley).

Basketball, anyone? Master Michael Peccianti, offspring of Kathleen and Mel, enjoyed the thrill of a lifetime as he and friends watched the Harlem Globe Trotters going through their unbelievable antics in the Richmond Auditorium. Occasion: Mike's eighth birthday. Paul Pagnini of "Paul's" in Martinez, scene of many Starling fashion shows, is happily greeting friends again after minor surgery in a local hospital. Asked the obviously loaded question, "How was the food there?", affable Mr. Paul just grins.

Localites Participate In Tribute Event

Almost $20,000 was presented to Herrick Memorial Hospital by the women of the Herrick Guild, Crown of Jewels, Arches and Auxiliaries at the annual Tribute luncheon held last week at the Hotel Claremont.

Dr. James S. Elliot of Lafayette presented Mrs. A. Alexander Laurence of Clayton; Mrs. J. Barlett McMahon and Mrs A. R. Snoble of Orinda with Certificates of Community Service.

Presenting reports of their groups' activities, gifts, volunteer work and funds raised were representatives of Arch of Sapphires, Mrs. Hyzer Jones of Orinda and for Arch of Topaz Mrs. Donn R. Court, of Lafayette.

Sunday, Feb. 1, the Northern California Area Council Brunch will be held at Rickys in Palo Alto. The Order of the Rose was held, which is a presentation to all members that have been in Beta Sigma Phi for 15 years or longer.

Those attending the brunch were Mrs. Lester Aboudara, Mrs. Phillip Churchill, Mrs. Walter Edwards, Mrs. Earl Kuchta, Mrs. Frank Scully and Mrs. Richard McBride.

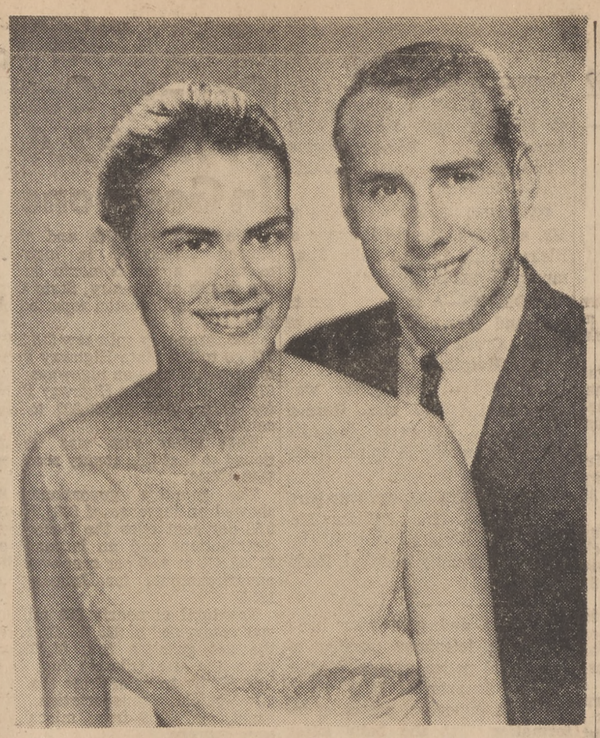
Last meeting was held at the Walnut Creek home of Mrs. Robert Richardson, at which husbands were invited to attend. An hour long tape recording by Colonel Mayer on the subject of brain washing in the Korean conflict was heard. Homemade donuts and coffee were served.

Orinda Branch To Hold Fashion Show Luncheon

Gay hat boxes, spring flowers and harlequin masks will be the decorative theme for the fashion show to be given by the Orinda Branch of the Children's Hospital on February 25 at the Orinda Country Club.

Lunchen will be served at 12:30, then Irene Sargent's clothes featuring casual, cruise and sports outfits will be paraded for all to see. Of particular interest to golfers will be the bermuda shorts and blouse combinations now accepted by the Women's Golf Association.

Mrs. Hi Hennings is chairman of the affair, Mrs. Fred Goodwin is in charge of reservations, Mrs. Fred Borden, decorations; Mrs. Edwin Dougery, programs; Mrs. Robert Jurs, tickets. Mrs. James MacDonald will commentate and Mrs. Ralph Hill will assist the following models:



THE ENGAGEMENT of Jan Bush to John Maas was announced at a Big Game Party with 150 fellow students from the University of California present. Wedding plans are still indefinite.

County Gets $143,432.44 In Gas Money

The state, counties and cities shared $27,939,230 in highway users tax apportionments during the month of January, State Controller Alan Cranston reported otday.

The three-way split saw $18,399,711 go to the State Highway Fund for expenditures on highways, $2,679,210 to the State Highway Fund for cities, and $6,860,309 to the counties.

That latter sum was apportioned so that this county received $143,432.44.

The month's apportionments showed an increase of $965,579 or 3.58 per cent over the December distributions and an increase of $1,227,470 or 4.60 per cent over the apportionments for January of 1958.

The total of nearly $28 million was comprised of $25,720,418 from the net gasoline tax, $1,402,227 from the use (diesel) fuel tax, $816,177 by transfer from the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund, and $408 from miscellaneous sources.

Gross gasoline taxes for the month amounted to $27,313,693. From this total was deducted $1,564,108 for refund to non-highway users and $29,166 for apportionment of unrefunded tax on aviation gasoline. Refunds increased by $89,442 or 6.07 per cent over those paid in the preceding month.

Execs Hold Retirement Conference

The importance of enjoyable and constructive use of leisure time was thoroughly endorsed last week by an overflow crowd of topflight management men in a discussion at the second Business and Industrial Executives' Symposium held on the St. Mary's college campus.

The concern of these key industry leaders goes beyond their personal future. The problem of preparing company-wide personnel for retirement while still on the job was explored. Among the examples cited was a company with a planned program to bring out the creative powers of each employee, be he salesman, bookkeeper or executive, with periodic company-sponsored exhibits throughout his working life.

Coincident with the discussion on leisure led by Whitmer, another group participated in a discussion on art, hightlighted by an exhibit of oils by Hector Escobosa, president of I. Magnin & Co. and a serious painter who has exhibited widely both here and abroad. The art discussion was led by Brother Kyran, F.S.C.

Earl Beste, supervisor of the Department of Social Service in Martinez, is chairman of the Family and Child Welfare Section of the Central Contra Costa Community Welfare Council, a United Crusade Agency. The Section met Wednesday at the Hillcrest Congregational Church, 404 Gregory Lane, Pleasant Hill.

The 52-member section is beginning a study of the need for establishing a Family Service Agency in central Contra Costa County.

Oakland and San Francisco are served by Family Service Agencies which offer help with marriage counseling, family problems, bettering parent-child relationships, problems of newcomers and of non-residents, and with problems of runaway children.

To conduct the study, a special committee has been appointed by the Section to suggest procedures for development of the project.

Members serving this committee are Miss Mary E. McGrath, chairman, School Guidance, Martinez; Mrs. Roberta G. Spiegl, Travelers' Aid, Alameda; Mrs. Sally Chwastyk, representing St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Barbara Kidwell, Junior League.

Audubon Group Hears Chief Biologist

A monthly meeting of Mt. Diablo Audubon Society was held last night in Room 201, Las Lomas High School, Walnut Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hassler secured Dale Sutherland of the Department of Fish and Wildlife as guest speaker.

Sutherland is chief research biologist of the river basin studies now underway in the Sacramento River area.

His topic was the effects of the various proposed projects, salt water barrier of the bay and river, reclaiming marginal lands for industrial uses and flood control measures.

Before coming to this area, Sutherland worked with waterfowl biology management in the Fallon, Nevada wildlife refuge. His talk should be interesting and instructive and persons interested are invited to attend.

Sunday the society will make another field trip to the delta region of the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers.

Smog Boss Reveals Auto Exhaust Fume Eliminator

A newly invented device to eliminate automobile exhaust gases is expected to be in production within three to four years to control the greatest single cause of smog, Bay Area Air Pollution Control Officer Benjamin Linsky told a group of 80 Contra Costa officials and industrial leaders Tuesday night.

Three of the devices—the result of the second pool operation ever undertaken by the automotive industry—were unveiled last week in Detroit and the best will be perfected and put into production as soon as possible, Linsky said. He added that auto and truck exhausts cause 70 per cent of the smog in the Los Angeles basin and 25 per cent of the Bay Area's problem.

LINSKY DISCLOSED that the first hearing on the Air Pollution District's second regulation — a law to deal with industrial and combustion gas pollutants—is set for February 18 in San Francisco.

The first regulation, controlling open burning in garbage dumps, is now completely effective, and the last fire died out in a Bay Area refuse dump only last week.

"We expected strenuous opposition to this regulation, which is the first area-wide regulation in the Bay Region, but acceptance by dump operators was absolutely fantastic," Linsky said. "We expect the same kind of acceptance from industry, although in some cases it may cost up to 15 per cent of plant investment to install the necessary arrestors."

PRESIDENT V. A. FINK of the Contra Costa County Development Association introduced Linsky and remarked that he is the 50th president of the Air Pollution Control Association, an organization that has been active in the field since 1906.

Linsky said that regulations to control back-yard trash burning, which contributes about 15 tons to the 147 tons per day of dust and smoke going into the Bay Area's atmosphere, are about four years in the offing, and added that the district probably will never be compelled to regulate fireplace and barbecues.

"These things are a part of our way of life and if we ever have to get down to the level of barbecues and fireplaces, we will have to admit that our overall program is a failure," he said.

LINSKY SHOWED a motion picture of Bay Area smog conditions and a series of maps and smaller exhibits to explain the area's peculiar problem which was described as about one half as bad as that of Los Angeles on the comparable worst weather days in the summer and fall.

The Bay Area's problem, he said, is complicated by a weather inversion layer which lies substantially lower than that over Los Angeles. Vehicular exhaust gases put about 800 tons per day of pollutants into the Bay Area air.

In Los Angeles County, he said in answer to a question from the floor, industry has spent about $70,000,000 for arrestor equipment. Had no regulations been undertaken there, he added, Los Angeles would be a disaster area and parts of it would be uninhabitable.

The smoke czar declared that in 13 years of study, he had never heard of a case in which an industry moved, or was forced to move, from an area because of air pollution regulations, but that there were numerous instances where industries have refused to move into areas of heavy pollution.

"We expect support from industry for our program and we hope to continue to earn their cooperation," he said. "No agency can enforce regulations against three million people or against concentrated industry without voluntary cooperation."

Tighter County Procedure, Organization is Sought

"Legislation to increase the economy and efficiency of local government in Contra Costa County" has been proposed by executive committee members of the County Taxpayers Association.

They recently talked with State Senator George Miller Jr, Assemblymen S. C. Masterson and Jerome Waldie and asked their aid in backing three proposals, as follows:

1. An act to provide that all special districts within the county shall file annually a budget with the county auditor.

2. THAT ALL county, school and special districts will publish a five-year capital improvement program, and publish annually any revisions in such a program.

3. That school trustee elections shall be changed from an annual basis to a bi-annual basis, and the terms of trustees from three to four years, thus saving the taxpayers of the county over $50,000 a year, and the state approximately a million dollars.

On another subject, the association's publication, "The Spotlight" said, "California offers a prime example of the need for school district reorganization, one half of its elementary districts having less than 150 pupils, and about one half of the high school districts having less than 600 pupils."

It continued, "In Contra Costa County, ten school districts or almost one-third of the total districts, have less than 600 upils.

"THESE DISTRICTS and their enrollments as of September, 1958, were as follows: Briones Valley, 4; Canyon, 28; Lone Tree, 23; Selby, 29; Port Costa, 63; Moraga, 170; Byron Union, 181; San Ramon, 80; Knightsen, 225; Carquinez, 508."

The "Spotlight" continued, "In a recent analysis of public schools, published under the title of School Needs in the Decade Ahead, Roger A. Freeman of the Institute for Social Science Research cites the reduction in the number of school districts over the past quarter of a century.

"However, he points to the need of much more progress in district reorganization.

"School district organization has an important effect on average class size and pupil-teacher ratios. Unnecessarily small schools result in higher pupil-teacher ratios and the need for hiring more teachers than the total enrollment warrants.

"THE PRICE of inefficiently organized school districts has been 'poor education at high cost.'"

Greater centralization of county administration got the approval of the taxpayers' group. The "Spotlight" said, "Rapid streamlining of Contra Costa County's structure is taking place in 1959.

"A new county administrator ordinance will make this office an improved tool of administration by the Board of Supervisors over the numerous departments of county government.

"The centralization of management functions—i.e., civil defense and personnel administration—into this office will greatly aid in the establishment of management decisions.

"UNDER DISCUSSION by the Board of Supervisors are further sweeping changes in county organization.

"If recommendations of the Public Administration Service, a management consulting firm retained by the Board of Supervisors over the past two years, are heeded, the county airport and the flood control district will become a part of a strengthened county public works department.

"Also under discussion is the future consolidation of the offices of the sealer of weights and measures and the agricultural commissioner.

"The CCTA comends these efforts by the county government to reduce the number of county departments and agencies, which now number 25, to a more manageable organization allowing the Board of Supervisors more time for policy decisions.

"THE ADOPTION of a new county budget schedule by the Board of Supervisors will have a profound effect upon Contra Costa County this fiscal year in that budgeting will be carried on in a systematic fashion never achieved to the present time.

"Not only will direct agencies of the county come under closer administrative review in the preparation of their budgets for 1959-60, but special districts, legally under the jurisdiction of the Board of Supervisors, will have their budgets reviewed for the first time by the professional staff of the county administrator's office.

"The adoption by the auditor-controller's office of a new system of encumbrance accounting will result in greater centralization of purchasing through the county purchasing department than ever before.

"This is of special significance in regard to the county special districts, some of which have carried on independent purchasing programs largely out of control of the Board of Supervisors.

"THESE NEW ACTIONS in tightening budget preparation and control will give the Board of Supervisors for the first time authority over county agencies and special districts commensurate to the responsibilities which it has had."

The "Spotlight" included a table, which showed how this county compares with other counties in the state, regarding the change in tax rates from 1957-58 to 1958-59.

Contra Costa's 12 cent increase from $2.07 to $2.19 was less favorable than the 20 per cent decrease in Yolo County, where the tax rate dropped from $2.31 to $1.85.

But it was more welcome than the 39 per cent increase in Mariposa County—from $1.78 to $2.48.

ALAMEDA County dropped from a $1.99 rate to $1.98. Marin County remained at $2.30; Napa County dropped from $2.54 to $2.38; Santa Clara raised from $1.75 to $1.85.

Highest tax of all is in Trinity County—$3.60 per $100 assessed valuation.

Lowest of all is Plumas County with $1.26, a drop from the previous year's $1.30.

YMCA Proposes 'Young UN' for Nation in Area

A proposal that a young men's United Nations Christian Assembly, drawing youth representatives from around the world, be established here is being made to world leaders today by the Mt. Diablo YMCA.

A letter from Don Krampe, President of Mt. Diablo Y's Men, has been sent to national and world political leaders.

Representatives of world youth groups could study and vote on major issues of world significance. Opinions adopted would then be passed on by official youth delegates at the UN in New York.

Delegates to the local conferences would be elected by YMCA colleges and Hi-Y clubs throughout the world.

Basketball Enters Crucial Stages

Foothill, Contra Costa Tighten Belts for Finale

The events of the week in the prep sports field find the basketball race entering the crucial stage as far as the hoop and wrestling games are concerned.

Pleasant Hill off a fast start have dropped a couple of close decisions and have to really make up ground from here on in.

Tonight the Rams host Pacifica and figure to get back in the win column and they play the big one next Wednesday, February 11, when they test Pittsburg at the Steel City court.

Foothill League play finds Las Lomas drawing the bye tonight while Acalanes goes to Piedmont this afternoon and Miramonte hosts San Ramon tonight.

Next Tuesday, February 10, afternoon Las Lomas and Miramonte meet in the big one with a Miramonte win putting them in the driver's seat, while a Las Lomas win would make it a wide open race.

Acalanes rounds out the day's play at San Ramon.

Wrestling takes the spotlight tomorrow with the Foothill Division meet at Acalanes and the Contra Costa Division wrestlers going at Pittsburg.

Both are all day affairs starting in the morning and running throughout the day.

Miramonte Takes Two

The Miramonte Matadors wrapped up a pair of big wins last Friday night when the Bees started off by taking the Dons in a red hot scoring contest 53-50 while the varsity followed with a close but effective 26-24 win over the hapless Dons.

The varsity go found both clubs playing a tight defensive brand of ball that kept scoring at a low ebb throughout the contest.

Acalanes lead in the first quarter 5-4 and were out in front 13-9 with two minutes to go in the half when the Miramonte club hit for four quick points on a pair of field goals, both from sharp shooting Randy Young who wound up as the game's top scorer with 16 points.

The Matadors stayed in front by a narrow 23-22 margin at the end of the third quarter.

The final quarter found the defense sparking and the offense sputtering as Miramonte won when they outscored the Dons 3-2 in the final quarter.

In the closing seconds the Dons made a bid for the big play when George McMeans broke loose for a close in shot and Bill Yonge followed with a tip, both shots went in the ring but came out and when Miramonte's big John Coffey took the ball off the boards it was all over except the shouting of which there was plenty.

Knights Down Piedmont

Walnut Creek was the scene of action last Friday night and the home town team made a night of it when the Knights chalked up a pair of wins at the expense of the Piedmont Highlanders who took the low road when their Bees went down 39-32 and the varsity went under 58-30.

In the varsity game Coach Bob Callam's Knights had things well in hand as they coasted to a 15-2 first quarter lead and stayed well ahead 29-12 at the half.

A good part of the story was told on the boards where the home club dominated in rebounds 38-16.

The Knights rolled on in with reserves doing the work a good part of the time in the third quarter as they outscored Piedmont 14-7 and 15-11 in the final canto.

The Walnut Creek Club had their shooting eye in fine fettle as they hit for a good 22 for 50 from the field and a fine 14 for 18 from the free throw line.

Rams Drop Thriller

The Pleasant Hill Rams, playing at Antioch High last Friday night, found the going on the hard luck side as the varsity lost a 38-35 overtime thriller while the Bees went down in the final 12 seconds, 24-22.

Antioch spurted to a 10-6 first quarter advantage and hung on to stay in front 20-18 at the half.

Pleasant Hill picked up 7 points to Antioch's 5 in the third quarter and knotted the count 25-25 which resulted in a tie ball game when each club scored 10 points in the final quarter.

The Rams were leading 35-33 with 16 seconds on the clock when Antioch's Ivar Kent poured a field goal through the hoop from the edge of the key.

In the overtime both teams played cautious ball with the break coming when Antioch's Center Tom Lingham stole the ball and drove down court to sink what proved to be the winning bucket with 59 seconds left on the clock.

IT LOOKS LIKE the shot was good — but it wasn't. If the shot would have gone in during the Miramonte Acalanes tilt, Acalanes would have won, but the way the ball game ended it was Miramonte winning during an overtime period. Heads, left to right are Paul Colin, 22, Acalanes, Mel Simpson, Acalanes; Tim Crawford, Miramonte; John Coffey, Miramonte, and Bill Yonge, Acalanes. George McMeans of Acalanes shot, Bill Yonge of Acalanes followed with a tip shot and it rolled out as John Coffey recovered to give Miramonte the win. —Sun photo by Mattson

'Wrestling League' Meets Are Tomorrow

Acalanes, Pleasant Hill Favored in Twin Leagues

Tomorrow is a red letter day as far as local prep wrestlers, fans and coaches are concerned with Divisional Meets on tap.

The Acalanes Dons are holding the Foothill Division meet at Acalanes High gym while Pittsburg hosts the Contra Costa division.

The Foothill schools are four in number consisting of Acalanes, Las Lomas, Miramonte and San Ramon, with Piedmont not taking part.

Antioch is the lone exception in the Contra Costa Division with Pittsburg, Pacifica, Diablo, Clayton Valley and Pleasant Hill all being represented.

Meet times find the trials opening at 10 a.m. in the Contra Costa Division and 9:30 a.m. in the Foothill circuit.

Bouts will run throughout the day with final matches scheduled at the Acalanes gym at 4:30 p.m. while Pitt opens their final events starting at 7 p.m.

Individual as well as team championships will be at stake with the top form men in each of the twelve weight classes qualifying for the county meet which combines the two Divisions at Pleasant Hill High in a meet to be held on Saturday February 14.

From here the top two men in each weight bracket go to the North Coast Section to be held at Hayward on Saturday February 21 and the top three in each weight here will qualify for the North Coast Finals at Fresno to be held Saturday February 28.

In the Foothill division meet the Acalanes Dons are favored with Miramonte figured to be not far behind.

Las Lomas and San Ramon look to battle for the third spot with the edge going to the Knights who upset San Ramon in two league bous.

Pleasant Hill won the Contra Costa Division Dual Meet Title and are heavy favorites to repeat as champions in tomorrow's meet.

Pleasant Hill has a well balanced club that can score well in most weight divisions.

Weights to be contested are as follows: 103, 112, 120, 127, 133, 138, 145, 154, 165, 175, 191 and heavyweight.

Individual awards will go to each of the winners of the top four places in each weight class.

Ram Rasslers Bump Leandro

The Pleasant Hill wrestlers hit the winners circle again last Friday afternoon when they spilled San Leandro High on the home mat to the tune of a 31-15 score.

The Rams were off to a fast start winning the first four matches before dropping one and while San Leandro picked up points in the middle weights it was a clean cut win for the Rams when they won a pair of matches by pins and another two by forfeit in the final two matches.

Pleasant Hill team results were as follows: 105 Rockwell won decision; 112 Cowell won decision; 120 Moore won decision; 127 Hannan won decision; 133 Glidwell drew; 138 Quick was pinned; 145 Maples lost decision.

154 Dyer won by a pin; 165 Bruns won by a pin; 175 Foster won by a forfeit; 191 Faulk won by forfeit; Heavy Dathe won by a fall.

Young Hockey Players Start League Play

The Ice Hockey Junior League has almost 90 boys active in the league at the present. There is still time to join this season and be placed on a team. Every Saturday more new boys show up at the rink and are taught to skate and the fundamentals of the game.

On Sunday night two battles were fought. The first was between the Bears and Panthers with the score ending 1-0 for the Panthers. The goal was scored by Jim Wise.

In the second game two teams of the A League also fought to a 1-0 score. The Cougars vs. Lions played with Bob Mellis of the Cougars finally scoring. Bib is a recent addition to the league, a former resident of Ontario, Canada and travels from Daly City to play hockey.

The next two games will be played on February 15 at the Walnut Creek Ice Rink.

The general public is invited free of charge to come on Sunday nights—time 7:15.

County Gets $139,428.07 For Gas Tax

December apportionments of highway users taxes totaled $26,973,651, State Controller Alan Cranston reported yesterday.

Of that total, $17,701,311 went to the State Highway Fund for expenditures on highways, $2,595,717 to the State Highway Fund for cities, and $6,676,623 to the counties.

This county's share of the total amounted to $139,428.07, Cranston said.

The December apportionments showed a decrease of $2,625,677 or 8.87 per cent from the November figures and an increase of $2,770,466 or 11.45 per cent over the distribution for December of 1957.

The overall total was comprised of $24,918,881 from the net gasoline tax, $1,185,904 from the use (diesel) fuel tax, $868,551 by transfer from the Motor Vehicle Transportation Tax Fund, and $315 from miscellaneous sources.

Gross gasoline taxes for the month came to $26,422,714. From this amount was deducted $1,174,666 for refund to non-highway users and $29,167 for apportionment of unrefunded tax on aviation gasoline. Refunds dropped by $402,505 or 21.44 per cent from the preceding month.

The figures, representing November collections, were compiled under the direction of Cranston's predecessor as controller, Robert C. Kirkwood.

Mayor Von Tagen Praises Electrical Industry Here

Mayor William Von Tagen today described the electrical industry as "one of the primary sources of economic strength." The occasion was the signing of a proclamation designating the week of February 8-14 as National Electrical Week in Walnut Creek.

"We cannot over-emphasize the importance of the electrical industry to Contra Costa County," he said. Thousands of men and women are employed in the electrical industry here—in power production, manufacturing, contracting, servicing, sales and related activities.

"Moreover, electricity contributes greatly to our entire economic progress. Our daily lives revolve around the tasks electricity performs for us—at home and on the job. Virtually every home, business, and industry in our community is dependent upon electric power.

"I am pleased to join the men and women of this vital industry in celebrating the National Electrical week observance."

Be sure and give your baby sitter the telephone number of your local police agency, doctor and fire department.

Mayor's Proclamation Kicks Off 'National Electrical Week' Here

WHEREAS, the week of February 8-14 has been designated National Electric Week in recognition of the importance of electricity and the electrical industry to the social and economic strength of our community; and

WHEREAS, to enhance public awareness of the importance of the services performed by electricity in everyday life; and

WHEREAS, to encourage the safe and efficient use of electricity and electrical equipment; and

WHEREAS, to pay tribute to the electrical pioneers, typified by Thomas A. Edison, who contributed so much to the development of a vital industry:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM von TAGEN, Mayor of City of Walnut Creek, of the state of California, do hereby proclaim the week of February 8-14, 1959, as

EBMUD to Sell First of Bonds

Bids for the first sale of the East Bay Municipal Utility District's $252 million bond issue authorized last year will be received February 18, EBMUD President Louis J. Breuner announced today.

Breuner said that the initial offering of $25 million in par value bonds was authorized by the EBMUD Board at its regular meeting January 23. These bonds will meet the District's construction costs for the next 12 months, he stated.

CAUSE FOR CELEBRATION is shown by Andy Maser, chairman of the National Electrical Contractors Association for Contra Costa County and former president of the Northern California Chapter of the Association, as Mayor William Von Tagen signs the Electrical Week proclamation.

Electrical 'Horsepower' Up 70 Percent Since 1950

A 70 per cent increase since 1950 in electric horsepower per industrial worker in northern and central California will be registered by the end of 1959, Charles J. Goodwin, Jr., president of the Northern California Electrical Bureau, said today.

Signalling the opening of National Electrical Week, Goodwin said the labor of every worker in the region's factories will be aided by an estimated 15.7 horsepower by the end of the year, compared with 13 in 1957 and 9 in 1950.

"THIS RISING APPLICATION of electric power is a principal factor in California's industrial growth and capacity to provide jobs for the state's rapidly growing population," Goodwin said.

A striking increase of 31 per cent in horsepower per agricultural worker since 1950 also will be reached this year, Goodwin said. From 3.8 horsepower per worker in 1950 the use of electricity on the farm climbed to 4.8 in 1957 and 1958 and is expected to reach approximately 5 horsepower by the end of 1959.

"Farms in northern and central California use almost 10 times as many kilowatthours annually as the national average farm power consumption," Goodwin said. Cash farm income in the area accounts for approximately three quarters of the California total. In 1957, the last year of complete record, it was approximately $2.1 billion out of a state total of $2.75 billion. The state's farm wealth each year is greater than the value of all the gold produced in the state in more than a century since gold was discovered.

"AS AN INDUSTRY, this California farm productivity is possible in large degree because of the increasing application of electricity," Goodwin said. "It is expected that during 1959 an additional load of 234,000 horsepower in industry and 80,000 horsepower in agriculture will develop in this area.

"National Electrical Week, which celebrates the birth of Thomas A. Edison on February 11, 1847, calls attention to the importance to the nation of the industry he founded. In California the electric industry in all its phases, employs directly more than 200,000 employees, and many thousands of others depend indirectly on it for their jobs.

"The manufacture of electrical equipment is a growing industry in the state. California is a leading area in electronics production and atomic energy research. The state produces a large proportion of the space missiles of the nation and now is developing as one of the major launching areas. Missiles would be impossible without the contribution of electronics.

"In virtually every aspect of our lives, at home and on the job, we are dependent on electricity. Today, only 80 years since Edison built the first practical incandescent electric light, a world without electricity is unthinkable."

Valley Art Center Plans Expanded Program for '59

At the first meeting of the year of the Valley Art Center, held January 20 at Vallecito school, Lafayette, plans were laid for expanded activities during the coming year. Emphasis will be on a wider range of programs for the members.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ward of Lafayette will again head the Art Center as co-presidents.

Announcement was made of a new schedule of classes to begin soon in mosaics, ceramics and painting. The schedule is as follows:

MOSAICS: beginning February 24, classes in mosaics will be held in Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek.

The fee in most cases will be $18 for six classes, plus $4 laboratory fee.

In Walnut Creek, Mrs. Ruth Howard, 2385 Walnut Boulevard, is offering classes from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. The series of lessons, at $16 plus laboratory fee, will be held each Tuesday and Wednesday, beginning February 24.

Also in Walnut Creek, Mrs. Eleanor Condon of 110 Richard Lane is conducting similar classes, beginning February 24, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. The fee is $18, plus $4 laboratory.

In Lafayette, classes will be held at the home of Mrs. Mildred Simon, 4141 Los Arabis, beginning March 4, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

ON MARCH 3, Mrs. Simon also will conduct an advanced workshop for experimental mosaics.

In Orinda, Mrs. Harriet Ainsworth, 73 La Questa, will begin a series of classes, March 4, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Ceramics: Mrs. Eleanor Condon, 110 Richard Lane, Walnut Creek, will conduct the one series of ceramic classes scheduled at the present time. There will be eight two-hour sessions in wheel work, with a fee of $18.50. Starting date will be announced soon.

PAINTING: A series of eight classes will begin February 19, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, at the Orchard Nursery, Lafayette. Contact Mrs. June Martsolf for information. The instructor will be Syd Fossum, of San Francisco, who has studied at Northern State Teachers College, S.D., Minneapolis School of Art and Universified Michoacana, Morelia, Mexico.

Fossum has an extensive teaching record at such art centers as Washington University, Drake University, University of Colorado and Patri Art School, San Francisco.

According to Fossum, no previous art experience is needed for the class. There will be some demonstrations and talks to the class as a group, but attention and criticism will be largely individual.

Fossum suggests oil painting as the most appropriate medium for study, but students may work in any medium desired.

Instruction will not be limited to any particular technique, style of point of view. Particular attention will be given to those with little or no previous art training but who are interested in art as a hobby or avocation.

THE BOARD approved a 10 per cent discount on art class fees to all Valley Art Center members.

Valley Art Center's new board for 1959 includes Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ward, co-presidents; E. Parker Stack, Mrs. Mildred Simon and William Wilkinson, vice presidents; Mrs. June Martsolf, secretary and classes; Julian Stern, treasurer.

Mrs. Muriel Stratton, membership; Mrs. Marie Converse, exhibition; Mrs. Jane Holmes, social; Mrs. Elizabeth Johnston and Mrs. Blanche Brody, rental gallery.

Howard Converse, publicity; Mrs. Marian Love, newsletter; permanent art center, vice presidents.

The aims of the Valley Art Center are to bring the best in art to the area, to foster an interest in all phases of art and to foster talent.

Lillian Raye Trio Opens at Nevada Lodge

In the Theatre-Bar of the 100-room Nevada Lodge, entertainment center of Lake Tahoe, the Lillian Raye Trio opened Wednesday.

The trio has vivacious blonde Lillian Raye, one of the most dynamic personalities in show business today. Many critics have compared her power-packed song styling to Kay Starr.

Lillian is backed up by Ray Luckey and Buddy Clifford. Each member of the trio doubles and triples on several instruments.

They are Howard Jewell, Richard Haber and Martin Rothenberg.

Honored guests at the dinner will be Governor Edmund G. Brown, U.S. Senator Clair Engle, and Attorney General Stanley Mosk, and other elected Democratic officials.
